#	ARTICLE	IF	CITATIONS
1	“Can You Recognize My Stepparents?” A Study of Host-Specific Male Call Divergence in the Common Cuckoo. PLoS ONE, 2014, 9, e90468.	2.5	21
2	Spatial patterns, ecological niches, and interspecific competition of avian brood parasites: inferring from a case study of Korea. Ecology and Evolution, 2014, 4, 3689-3702.	1.9	20
3	Seasonal and diurnal patterns of population vocal activity in avian brood parasites. Ibis, 2020, 162, 1001-1011.	1.9	19
4	Common cuckoo females may escape male sexual harassment by color polymorphism. Scientific Reports, 2019, 9, 7515.	3.3	16
5	Comparing vocal structures of the parasitic and nonparasitic groups in Cuculinae. Avian Research, 2017, 8, .	1.2	7
6	Color Morph Variation in Two Brood Parasites: Common Cuckoo and Lesser Cuckoo. Ornithological Science, 2016, 15, 109-117.	0.5	6
7	Host-parasite interaction augments climate change effect in an avian brood parasite, the lesser cuckoo Cuculus poliocephalus . Global Ecology and Conservation, 2020, 22, e00976.	2.1	6
8	Habitats matter: the incidence of and response to fear screams in a habitat generalist, the vinous-throated parrotbill Paradoxornis webbianus . Behavioral Ecology and Sociobiology, 2015, 69, 1575-1584.	1.4	5
9	Asymmetry of eye color in the common cuckoo. Scientific Reports, 2017, 7, 7612.	3.3	5
10	Home range overlap and its genetic correlates in an avian brood parasite, the lesser cuckoo Cuculus poliocephalus . Journal of Ethology, 2019, 37, 271-281.	0.8	3
11	Hormone profiles of obligate avian brood parasites during the breeding season. Ibis, 2016, 158, 371-379.	1.9	2
12	Host-dependent dispersal demonstrates both-sex host specificity in cuckoos. Behavioral Ecology, 2021, 32, 248-256.	2.2	2
13	Variations of Hawk Mimicry Traits in the Four Sympatric Cuculus Cuckoos. Frontiers in Ecology and Evolution, 2021, 9, .	2.2	2
14	Explaining the variation in the number of host species in the subfamily Cuculinae. The Korean Journal of Ornithology, 2020, 27, 30-35.	0.0	1
15	Rejection of Conspecific Eggs Associated with the Appearance of Eggs, in the Azure-Winged Magpie Cyanopica cyanus in Korea. Ornithological Science, 2022, 21, .	0.5	1
16	Linking individual attributes and host specialization in brood parasitic cuckoos. Avian Research, 2022, 13, 100028.	1.2	1
17	Habitat selection in the lesser cuckoo, an avian brood parasite breeding on Jeju Island, Korea. Journal of Ecology and Environment, 2020, 44, .	1.6	0
