

The Whole Is More Than the Sum of Its Parts

Journal of Craniofacial Surgery

25, 59-63

DOI: 10.1097/scs.0000000000000369

Citation Report

#	ARTICLE	IF	CITATIONS
1	Reading different literature helps one to learn to listen. Internal and Emergency Medicine, 2014, 9, 493-495.	1.0	1
2	Heads, Hands and Jaws: The Role of the Hand Specialist in the Craniofacial Clinic. Journal of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery, 2015, 73, S2-S12.	0.5	0
3	Systems thinking for developing sustainable complex smart cities based on self-regulated agent systems and fog computing. Sustainable Computing: Informatics and Systems, 2018, 19, 204-213.	1.6	21
4	Noshape. International Journal of Organizational and Collective Intelligence, 2019, 9, 12-36.	0.3	0
5	Short Runs for a Long Slide: Principalization in Complex Facial Restoration after Acid Attack Burn Injury. Craniomaxillofacial Trauma & Reconstruction, 2019, 12, 75-80.	0.6	3
6	Questioning knowledge foundation: What is the best way to integrate knowledge to achieve substantial disaster risk reduction?. International Journal of Disaster Risk Reduction, 2020, 51, 101850.	1.8	18
7	Modelling Selected Parameters of Power Grid Network in the South-Eastern Part of Poland: The Case Study. Energies, 2020, 13, 239.	1.6	2
8	Analysis of German National Electricity Grid at Risk of Random Damage - Case Study. Advances in Intelligent Systems and Computing, 2021, , 3-10.	0.5	0
9	The interconnection exchange and complex systems properties in power grid network. MATEC Web of Conferences, 2021, 336, 05020.	0.1	0
10	Organization of Multi-Agent Systems: An Overview. International Journal of Intelligent Information Systems, 2015, 4, 46.	0.4	27
11	Towards a Hybrid MAS Organizational Model. International Journal of Organizational and Collective Intelligence, 2017, 7, 18-50.	0.3	8
12	Towards a Hybrid MAS Organizational Model. , 2020, , 238-274.		0
14	The use of PLANS and NetworkX in modeling power grid system failures. Scientific Reports, 2022, 12, .	1.6	0