

International Perception of Competence, Education, and Professionals Involved in Medicines Development

Frontiers in Pharmacology

10, 188

DOI: 10.3389/fphar.2019.00188

Citation Report

#	ARTICLE	IF	CITATIONS
1	The Specialist in Medicines Development (SMD) as a Vocational Program in Pharmaceutical Medicine: The Japanese and Italian Experience. Frontiers in Pharmacology , 2020, 11, 62.	3.5	1
2	Assessing clinical investigators's perceptions of relevance and competency of clinical trials skills: An international AIDS Malignancy Consortium (AMC) study. Journal of Clinical and Translational Science , 2021, 5, e28.	0.6	1
3	Evaluation of a professional development course on research methods for healthcare professionals. Healthcare Management Forum , 2021, 34, 186-192.	1.4	1
4	Joint Task Force Core Competency Framework Adoption Process at a National Level: A Survey of Ukrainian-Based Clinical Research Professionals. Therapeutic Innovation and Regulatory Science , 0, , .	1.6	0
5	Professional qualifications of medical affairs pharmaceutical physicians and other internal stakeholders in the pharmaceutical industry. F1000Research , 0, 11, 813.	1.6	0
6	Professional qualifications of medical affairs pharmaceutical physicians and other internal stakeholders in the pharmaceutical industry. F1000Research , 0, 11, 813.	1.6	2