Reform and resistance: The political economy of land a

Citation Report

#	ARTICLE	IF	CITATIONS
1	High rises and low-quality shelter: rental housing dynamics in Mathare Valley, Nairobi. Environment and Urbanization, 2020, 32, 481-502.	2.6	11
2	Enabling participatory planning to be scaled in exclusionary urban political environments: lessons from the Mukuru Special Planning Area in Nairobi. Environment and Urbanization, 2021, 33, 519-538.	2.6	17
3	Making railway land productive: The commodification of public land in Kenyan and Indian cities. Geoforum, 2021, 122, 118-128.	2.5	0
4	Infrastructural territorialisations: Mega-infrastructures and the (re)making of Kenya. Political Geography, 2021, 90, 102459.	2.5	23
5	Enabling Urban Planning Action in Africa: The Praxis and Oddity of COVID-19 Pandemic Response. Journal of Planning Literature, 2022, 37, 83-87.	3.5	4
6	Critical factors affecting the public land development: A systematic review and thematic synthesis. Land Use Policy, 2022, 117, 106077.	5.6	2
7	Négocier la terre en attendant la ville: marchés fonciers et gouvernance périurbaine en Afrique subsaharienne. Canadian Journal of African Studies, 2023, 57, 1-26.	0.9	1
8	Coordinating forest tenure reform: Objectives, resources and relations in Indonesia, Kenya, Nepal, Peru, and Uganda. Forest Policy and Economics, 2022, 139, 102718.	3.4	2
9	Community Perceptions on the Transformation of a high-altitude Grassland Through Invasion by Leucosidea sericea at Vuvu, South Africa. Human Ecology, 0, , .	1.4	0
10	Elite capture and urban geography: Analyzing geographies of privilege. Progress in Human Geography, 2023, 47, 645-663.	5.6	5