

A cultural criminology of 'new' jihad: Insights from

Crime, Media, Culture

17, 271-287

DOI: 10.1177/1741659020915509

Citation Report

#	ARTICLE	IF	CITATIONS
1	Can social bonds and social learning theories help explain radical violent extremism?. Nordic Journal of Criminology, 2022, 23, 83-101.	1.2	5
2	Rap, Islam and Jihadi Cool: The attractions of the Western jihadi subculture. Crime, Media, Culture, 2022, 18, 430-445.	1.5	5
3	â€œI Am Proud to Be a Traitorâ€ Pragmatics and Society, 2022, 13, 501-531.	0.4	2
4	Politico-ideological violence in Lebanon: The narrative embeddedness of grievances. Frontiers in Human Dynamics, 0, 4, .	1.8	0
5	The street-jihadi spectrum: Marginality, radicalization, and resistance to extremism. European Journal of Criminology, 2024, 21, 210-230.	2.1	0
6	Criminology and Propaganda Studies: Charting New Horizons in Criminological Thought. British Journal of Criminology, 0, , .	2.1	1