

Kinship and relatedness in urban Papua New Guinea

Journal De La Soci t  Des Oc anistes
, 159-170

DOI: 10.4000/jso.7756

Citation Report

#	ARTICLE	IF	CITATIONS
1	Introduction: The Politics of Order in Contemporary Papua New Guinea. Anthropological Forum , 2018, 28, 331-341.	0.6	4
2	Storying Toward Pasin and Luksave: Permeable Relationships Between Papua New Guineans as Researchers and Participants. International Journal of Qualitative Methods , The, 2020, 19, 160940692095718.	2.8	2
3	â€˜Two different worldsâ€™: Papua New Guinean women working in development in Port Moresby. Asia Pacific Viewpoint , 2020, 61, 353-365.	1.4	8
4	Bridewealth a Pardon: New Relationships and Restoration of Good Daughters. Oceania , 2020, 90, 194-213.	0.3	1
5	Urban Women and the Transformations of Braedpraes ¹ in Honiara ² . Oceania , 2020, 90, 253-272.	0.3	3
6	Street-level bureaucrats in a relational state: The case of Bougainville. Public Administration and Development , 2022, 42, 12-21.	1.8	10
7	Notions of (In)Dependence at a Papua New Guinean University. Oceania , 2021, 91, 181-196.	0.3	1
8	An introduction to â€˜Making the city â€œhomeâ€™: Practices of belonging in Pacific citiesâ€™. Australian Journal of Anthropology , The, 0, , .	0.7	0
9	Compassion or Corruption? Temporalities of Care and Nationhood in Papua New Guinean Nursing Education. Medical Anthropology Quarterly , 0, , .	1.4	0
10	Wok (â€˜workâ€™) as a Melanesian Cultural Keyword: Exploring Semantic Insights from an Indigenous Tok Pisin Play. Anglica , 2022, , 77-92.	0.1	0
11	A design approach for financial literacy curriculum targeting smallholders in Papua New Guinea. International Journal of Lifelong Education , 2023, 42, 231-248.	2.3	1
12	Collapsing the scales of law. , 2023, , 155-178.		0